Thurſday, February 19. 1708.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated Feb. 16.

Ratisbon, February 6.

ON Occaſion of the Director of the Diet's laying before them, a few Days ago, certain Propoſitions relating to the War, the Pruſſian Envoy repreſented, that the King his Maſter could not contribute to the Charge of hiring the 6000 Saxon Horſe into the Service of the Empire, nor to the Military Cheſt; becauſe, of 12000 Men that he has in the Netherlands, he reckons 4000 to be his Contingent to the Army of the Empire; that beſides, in the Frontier Towns of Weſel, Gelder, and Lipſtad he has about 27000 Men in Garriſon; that he has a Regiment of Horſe in the Country of Cleves, to oppoſe the Incurſions of the Enemy's Parties; and that he maintains the Regiment of Carabineers of Wartenſleben on the Upper Rhine: That upon Computation it would appear, that beſides his Troops in Italy paid by Great Britain and Holland, his Majeſty employs againſt France at leaſt 16000 Men more than he is oblig'd to by his Treaties, notwithſtanding the keeping up the ſaid Body in Italy ſtands him in more than the Subſidies he receives for them amounts to: And that for theſe Reaſons his Pruſſian Majeſty thinks the Diet of the Empire ſhould expect nothing more from him.

From the Harlem Courant, dated Feb. 21.

Ratisbon, Feb. 9. The College of Electors have reſolv'd to make preſſing Inſtances to the King of Pruſſia by his Miniſter here, that his Majeſty out of Affection and Zeal for Germany and the common Cauſe, taking into Conſideration the preſent Danger which threatens the Empire with Ruine, would be pleas'd, in Conformity to the Reſolutions of the Diet, not only to furniſh his Contingent of Troops to the Army, but likewiſe his Part to the Military Cheſt: And to repreſent, that whereas his Majeſty has given the Diet to underſtand, that he has hitherto furniſh'd his Contingent of Troops to the Netherlands, he is now deſir'd to ſend that Contingent to the Upper Rhine. The College of Princes have agreed with that of Electors in this Reſolution.

From the Harl. and Amſt. Cour. dated Feb. 21.

Ratisbon, Feb 9. The Miniſter of the Elector of Mentz, as Director of the Diet, has laid before them Draughts of Anſwers to the Letters of the States general of the united Netherlands and of the Elector of Hanover. In the Anſwer to the States general, the Diet thank their High Mightineſſes for their hearty Aſſurances that they are reſolv'd to carry on the War vigorouſly for the common Cauſe, till by the Bleſſing of God it be brought to a happy Concluſion, and the Power of France ſo brought down that for the future Europe may enjoy a firm Peace and Freedom of Commerce: They deſire their High Mightineſſes to concert by their Deputies the Operations of the enſuing Campaign with the Generals of the Empire; becauſe on Meaſures well taken and executed with Unanimity, Succeſs does ſo much depend: They aſſure them, that they make no Doubt the moſt powerful of the Princes and States of the Empire, will on the repeated Inſtances of the Emperour and the high Allies, furniſh in time their full Contingents: They deſire their High Mightineſſes to ſend to the Upper Rhine the 4000 Pruſſians ſerving in the Netherlands, which his Pruſſian Majeſty has declar'd to be his Contingent; as alſo the Quota of Troops which the Spaniſh Netherlands (as the Circle of Burgundy) ought to furniſh to the Army of the Empire; and to preſs the Regency of the ſaid Spaniſh Netherlands to ſend in likewiſe their Part of the 200000 Rixdollars deſign'd for the Military Cheſt; by which the ſaid Army would be enabled to gain Advantages over the Enemy: Laſtly, they aſſure them, that in a few Days the Diet will paſs ſuch Reſolutions as ſhall convince their High Mightineſſes that the Emperour and Empire have very much at Heart the vigorous Proſecution of this War. In the Anſwer to the Elector of Hanover, the Diet return him Thanks for taking upon him the Command of the Army of the Empire the laſt Campaign, and for retrieving Affairs on the Upper Rhine by obliging the Enemy to re-paſs that River; and deſire him to perſiſt in his laudable Zeal, and to aſſiſt in puſhing on the War with his Courage and Conduct, to his own Honour and for procuring a laſting Peace: They acquaint him, that they are continually deliberating on the neceſſary Means to enable him to act Offenſively againſt the Enemy, and ſhall ſpeedily come to a Reſolution thereupon; that they doubt not every Member of the Empire will for the future acquit themſelves of their Duty, but that if contrary to Expectation any ſhould be backward, they would compell them by Military Execution according to the Conſtitutions and former Reſolutions of the Empire: They further acquaint him, that Advices from all Parts agreeing that the Enemy will exert their beſt Efforts the enſuing Campaign againſt the Empire, and the King of Pruſſia having inform'd them that 4000 Men, which are his Contingent to the Army of the Empire, are now in the Netherlands, they will make Application to the States general that as well that Contingent of the King of Pruſſia, as the Quota both of Men and Money due from the Circle of Burgundy, may be furniſh'd to the ſaid Army on the Upper Rhine; and they deſire his Electoral Highneſs to ſecond their Inſtances to their High Mightineſſes on that Subject, by his Miniſter at the Hague: They alſo deſire his Electoral Highneſs to uſe his Intereſt, that Aſſemblies of the States of the Circles of Upper and lower Saxony may be held regularly as formerly, ſeeing the Kings of Sweden and Pruſſia have agreed in what Manner the ſame ſhould be held and in what Rank or Order the ſeveral Deputies ſhould have Seſſion therein; as alſo that his Electoral Highneſs would be pleas'd earneſtly to ſollicit thoſe Circles, that of Weſtphalia, and the Landgrave of Heſſe Caſſel, to ſend to the general Rendezvous, their Contingent of Men, Money, Artillery, and Ammunition by the middle of March: They further deſire his Electoral Highneſs to ſend them a Muſter-roll of the Troops which the Empire has now on Foot, and to ſignify the Places where they are; to the End that they being rightly inform'd therein, may take proper Meaſures, and proceed in time by Military Execution againſt thoſe that neglect to furniſh their Contingents according to the Conſtitution of the Empire: Laſtly, they promiſe his Electoral Highneſs, to come to a ſpeedy Reſolution on the Affair of the ninth Electorate.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated Feb. 23.

Ratisbon, Feb. 15. The Draught of the Anſwer of the Diet of the Empire to the Elector of Hanover's Letter, is approv'd by all the three Colleges. As for the Anſwer to the States of the united Netherlands, ſome of the Electoral Envoys (or Deputies) mov'd, that that Part of it by which their High Mightineſſes are deſir'd to preſs the Regency of the Spaniſh Netherlands to ſend to the Army of the Empire the Contingent of the Circle of Burgundy, as well in Men and Money as in other Neceſſaries, ceſſaries, ſhould ſtand without any Amendment; but the Envoys of the Princes judg'd it ought rather to be put into general Terms, namely, that their High Mightineſſes would be pleas'd ſo to order things, that the Conquer'd Territories belonging to the Circle of Burgundy might give ſome Aſſiſtance to the Empire; and argu'd, that if this Form were not lik'd, it might be adviſable to have the whole Period left out; becauſe 'twas well known their High Mightineſſes do more already for the Empire, than the Contingent of the Circle of Burgundy would amount to, and therefore might take ſuch a Requeſt as is aforemention'd in ill part, ſeeing the Empire cannot be ſufficiently thankful to them for the great Care and Pains they have been at, to ſerve the common Cauſe in general, and the Empire in particular. After ſome Debate, the Electoral College agreed to the Amendment propos'd by that of Princes; and ſo the ſaid Period being drawn up in general Terms, both the Letters, that is to ſay that to the States General and that to the Elector of Hanover, were made up; and order'd to be directed, Seal'd and diſpatch'd away by the Miniſter of the Elector of Mentz (as Director) only, which Order however the Diet declar'd ſhould not be made a Preſident.
